SCHOOL WORK TO START MONDAY IN NEW BUILDINGS

Superintendent Bradner Outlines Territory for East End, Junction, Binghamtown and Noetown schools

NO CHILDREN IN THESE DISTRICTS TO CENTRAL SCHOOL

School work will begin Monday at the new grade school buildings at East End, the Junction, Binghamtown and Noetown, according to Supt. J. W. Bradner who has outlined the territory from which each school will draw its attendance.

The East End will include the territory east of 19th Street. There are two rooms in this building and the first and second grades will be taught in this school by two teachers. Children living in this district will be expected to report at this building at 8:30 Monday morning January 29th.

Binghamtown district embraces all the territory north of the railroad bridge. The first four grades will be taught in this school by two teachers. Children living in this district will be expected to report at this building on Monday January 29th at 8:30.

The Junction embraces the territory south of Worcester Avenue and west of Peterborough. The first five grades will be taught in this school by three teachers. The children in the first five grades who live in this district will be expected to report at this building Monday morning at 8:30.

Noetown district includes those who live north of Worcester Avenue and west of 36th Street. The first four grades will be taught in this school by three teachers. The children in this district, in the first four grades will be expected to report at this building on Monday morning, January 29th at 8:30.

None of the children mentioned above should report at the central school building unless there is some good reason why they should go here to school instead of in one of these new schools. These cases should be referred to the Superintendent for his approval.

HARDING BACK AT WORK AFTER WEEK'S ILLNESS

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—President Harding expected to return to his desk today or the first time since he was taken ill with grippe more than a week ago. Only inclement weather prevented his return yesterday, it was said. The president decided to remain in his study and attend only to routine affairs.

TIP LONG WHO KILLED JESS BRADY NOT LAKE ROAD MAN

The Tip Long who is held in connection with the killing of Jess Brady is not the Tip Long who lives in Lake Road and who has been an up-right citizen here for several years. The man who is charged with the killing is a comparative stranger in this vicinity, it is understood, and has not lived here long.

The fact that the older resident had a name similar to that of the man charged with the crime has caused the former some embarrassment. The Daily News takes pleasure in doing all it can to set Mr. Long of Lake Road right before the public.

SAYS SOVIET WILL NOT AID GERMANY

Former Governor Of Indiana Back From Russian Trip, Tells Of Situation

INDIANAPOLIS, Jan. 25.—Russia will not join in a war against France or any other country unless driven to it, declares James P. Goodrich, former governor of Indiana.

And Goodrich knows Russia. He has made a careful study of conditions in the soviet republic as a trustee and member of the executive committee of the American Relief Administration there.

"Russia, naturally is somewhat friendly to Germany," Goodrich says, "because Germany is the only first-class power with which the soviet has made a treaty."

Hatred of France
A bitter hatred toward France exists throughout Russia, Goodrich added.

"I found this hatred to exist, not only in official classes but down to the very peasants," he said. "As a result of this feeling it would be a very natural tendency to do everything possible to embarrass France."

Tired of War
"Russia got out of the World War because the people were tired of war. They are still tired of war."

"Not only is Russia tired of war but it is not in a position industrially to conduct a war or to maintain an army on the field."

"I believe these things overbalance any tendency to war that would result from the hatred of Russia toward France."

LEWIS, PROMINENT EDUCATOR, DIES

Leader In Methodist Church And Organizer Of Sue Bennett Memorial School

By Associated Press.
WINCHESTER, Jan. 25.—Professor J. C. Lewis, 66, widely known Kentucky educator, dropped dead of heart disease while lecturing to a class at Kentucky Wesleyan College yesterday. He held the chair of education and history five years. He was probably best known as organizer and president of Sue Bennett Memorial school at London. He later occupied the chair of natural science of Ogden College, Bowling Green. He was leader in the Methodist denomination and a lecturer in the State Sunday School Association.

COLVIN PRAISES SCHOOL SYSTEM IN MIDDLESBORO

State Superintendent Tells of Improvement in State Educational Circles—Denounces Fraud in Normal School Matter

SAYS KENTUCKY RANKS NEARER TOP THAN BOTTOM

"In my judgment the people of Middlesboro have indicated to Kentucky the way out on the education proposition," declared George Colvin this morning in discussing the matter, "by raising their assessment; equitable assessment and fair taxes are the only solution for better education in the state."

Mr. Colvin is in Middlesboro today the guest of T. R. Hill, and he will speak at the Kiwanis Club ladies night on, "Kentucky's Biggest Business."

Continuing his discussion of education Mr. Colvin said: "I congratulate Middlesboro on her great progress in school building and I congratulate her on securing for superintendent Mr. Fradner. He is, in my opinion, one of the strongest school men in the state and he has, probably, the best record in school administration in Kentucky."

"There is a constant but steady improvement in educational conditions and an ever increasing interest in education in Kentucky," continued Mr. Colvin. "People realize as never before the importance of education in democracy, and education is more democratic than ever before. No longer are people content with educating their own children. They realize their obligations to all the children of the state."

Says Kentucky Not Forty-fifth
"I do not believe Kentucky ranks forty-fifth in the nation in education," declared Mr. Colvin, "such a ranking was, on the outset, an artificial one. In actual results in school I think Kentucky ranks nearer the top than the bottom. People generally are coming to understand that the school teacher is more important in preserving American institutions and ideals than any other element in society. For that reason a higher quality of qualifications is being demanded in teachers and an increasing respect for members of the professions is being shown."

"In spite of the fact that more money from taxation is being paid teachers than ever before," he went on, "they are still shamefully underpaid. Kentucky can not have good schools without good teachers, and we must be willing to pay salaries commensurate with their worth before we can hope to attract the strongest young men and women to teaching."

Condemns Politics in Education

"I regard as a real tragedy that the people of Kentucky were defeated in their purpose and plans to give the state better teachers' training facilities," he continued, "by establishing two new normal schools in remote sections of the state. The people of Kentucky have in this the most glaring example of the pernicious effects of political bargaining and the disastrous consequences of allowing politics to influence schools."

Speaking further Mr. Colvin said: "The county school law, enacted in 1920, is daily vindication itself in spite of the organized opposition of those who, in the past, have been accustomed to trafficking in the rights of children."

"In my judgment the most conspicuous development of education in Kentucky in the past few years has been the effort of teachers to better qualify themselves. Last summer, out of 12,000 teachers in Kentucky, more than 8,000 attended school. No state in the union can excel this record."

"What we should strive for in the immediate future," concluded Mr. Colvin, "is better financial support, better state, county and city administration, better qualified teachers, and, above all, to find a way to equalize educational opportunities in the county and city."

Hon. George Colvin, Superintendent of public instruction at Frankfort who will be the chief speaker at the Kiwanis Club dinner tonight is the guest during his stay in Middlesboro of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Hill of West Lee county.

STRIKE TIES UP RAILWAY SYSTEM OF RUHR VALLEY

Telephone and Telegraph Walkout Threatens—French Declare German Policy of Sabotage No Detriment

ALL TRAINS STALLED IN DUISBURG STATION

By Associated Press
DUISBURG, Jan. 25.—Virtually the entire railway system of the Ruhr Valley and occupied territory immediately adjoining is paralyzed today by strike of railway men. The disorganization of public utilities which has been slowly spreading throughout the Ruhr since the beginning of the French-Belgian occupation, thus received great impetus. The French were informed telephone and telegraph operators would strike at midnight. Meanwhile Paris, Berlin and Warsaw-Paris express trains are stalled in the station here. The French official statement said, "France is loathe to stay until she gets complete satisfaction from Germany," and declared the policy of sabotage would not deter France.

NEW MEMBERS FOR PINEVILLE KIWANIS

Move To Advertise City Through Bill Boards And Letter Heads Is Started

PINEVILLE, Jan. 25.—Five new members were admitted to the Pineville Kiwanis Club at the regular meeting held in the Pineville Hotel Tuesday night. They are: Judge J. C. Rollins, L. C. Kockley, O. M. Howard, C. B. Hoskins and A. F. (Dad) Smith.

R. H. Charlton, who was chairman, talked on advertising, boosting Pineville. It was decided to place a permanent board at the station telling what Pineville has and what can be developed here, and also to obtain permanent places for billboards telling about Pineville, to adopt a city slogan, and to advertise through the use of letter heads, which would carry interesting data concerning Pineville all over the United States.

The committee appointed to work out these schemes is: Bob Watt, chairman, Senator White Moss and Fred Graham.

An attendance prize given by Chairman Charlton was a check for $5, which neither of the banks may cash, but which will be good for merchandise. This check is to circulate until every member has added his signature to the list on the back. It was won Tuesday night by Bob Watt.

Judge M. J. Moss, who was to give a talk on the early history of Pineville, was ill and could not speak. His talk will probably be given at a later meeting.

The following, who are going to attend the Kiwanian meeting at the Cumberland Hotel Thursday night, will drive to Middlesboro at six o'clock to attend the revival services of the Rev. Trigg Thomas being held at the Presbyterian church preceding the Kiwanian dinner: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gibson and party, the Rev. and Mrs. L. O. Nisbet and party, Mr. and Mrs. Marcellus Moss and party, Senator and Mrs. White Moss and party, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Samuel and party, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Watt and party.

RECRUITING OFFICER HERE TO FILL ARMY VACANCIES

Sgt. George E. Burke, representing the recruiting service of the United States army arrived in town yesterday and will be here four or five weeks. Prospects look favorable for recruiting here, he said, two boys having signed up yesterday.

Vacancies in the Army exist in the service at the Hawaiian Islands and in Texas, according to the sergeant. Young men entering the service now have excellent opportunities to learn trades. Boys from 18 to 21 may join with their parents' consent.

WAGE AGREEMENT DECIDED UPON AT COAL CONFERENCE

Virtually Same As Expanding One—Calls for $7.50, Eight-Hour Day Work—$1.08 Ton For Contract Mines

TO BE STANDARD FOR BITUMINOUS TERRITORY

By Associated Press
NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Bituminous coal operators and officials of the United Mine Workers yesterday signed a new wage scale running for one year and covering the tri-state competitive field of Ohio, Illinois and Indiana. This agreement will be used as a standard for fixing wages and working conditions for the rest of the bituminous territory. The new agreement virtually is the same as that which expired April 1. It is based on the Federal Fuel administration's finding in 1920. The agreement on the new contract was reached yesterday when conferees fixed January 8, 1924 as the date to reconvening to draw up an agreement to cover the year beginning April 1, 1924. High spots in the new agreement call for $7.50 for eight hours a day work, and $1.08 per ton for contract miners.

KENTUCKY EFFICIENCY COMMISSION MEETS

By Associated Press
LEXINGTON, Jan. 25.—The Kentucky efficiency commission met here today to discuss progress of its work. A statement was issued by chairman Catesby Spears of Paris that the commission was created by the last legislature to eliminate waste in state affairs and that the commission expected soon to take up an inquiry into each branch of the state government, every department and institution. They would inquire if each activity is necessary, if it is costing too much or if, better service can be secured for the same money.

INVESTIGATE LIQUOR SUPPLY AT CAPITAL

Suspect Foreign Legations of Bringing in Large Amounts Later Used for Bootlegging

By Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The Federal government has set in motion machinery to learn whether any foreign embassy or legation here has brought into the country excessive shipments of liquor which later was diverted into bootleg trade in the national capital. While no formal protest concerning the shipments was made, high treasury officials said today several shipments were of such magnitude as to attract attention of prohibition enforcement officers. The treasury is represented as believing that more liquor is coming in than is "reasonably required" by the staffs of foreign representatives here.

ONE HUNDRED AND SEVEN PRAYER MEETINGS TODAY

The success of the community prayer meetings becomes more apparent each day. One hundred and seven women were out this morning. District 1, had nineteen present; District 2, seventeen; District 3, eleven; District 4, sixteen; District 5, nineteen; and District 6, twenty-five.

KU KLUX CHARGED WITH MOREHOUSE PARISH OUTRAGES

Said Klan Established Government of Own in District, Was On Brink of "Riot and Bloodshed"

DEFENSE SAYS NO PROOF OF KLAN PART IN OUTRAGES

By Associated Press
BASTROP, Jan. 25.—The Ku Klux Klan was charged with responsibility for numerous outrages in Morehouse Parish in a statement today by Attorney general A. V. Coco at the conclusion of an open hearing into the activities of a masked band which culminated August 24 in kidnapping near here Watt Daniel and T. F. Richards whose bodies were found in a lake twenty-five miles from the scene December 22. It is said the Klan established a government of its own in the Parish and that was on the brink of "riot and bloodshed," when Governor Parker sent troops here and initiated investigation. Counsel for Dr. McKoin and two others under suspicion as members of the band asserted the testimony failed to establish that the Klan took any part in the outrages.

MAN RUN OVER BY CAR ON HIGHTS TRACK AND KILLED

Joe Brimm, employee of the Hights mines, was killed this morning when a railway car on the tracks in front of the mines ran over him. He had been riding on the car for the purpose of stopping it at a desired point on the track when he fell from it. No one saw him fall from the car. When discovered by mine employees he was being dragged along beneath the wheels. One leg was entirely severed from his body and the other was badly cut. His body was badly cut and bruised. The accident occurred about 8 o'clock and the injured man died about 9:30.

The deceased was about 35 years old and is survived by a wife and four small children. He had been an employee of the Hights company for eight months. Funeral arrangements have not been made yet.

A mistrial resulted in the case of Middlesboro Town and Land company vs. L. and N. Railway company which was tried in circuit court yesterday. Plaintiff's contention was that it deeded a strip of land east of the Cumberland hotel and which now has an old Jellico Grocery company and other business houses to the K. O. C. G. and L. Railway company several years ago. The deed contained a provision that the property should be used only for railroad purposes. Later the L. and N. company bought and, according to plaintiff, violated the provision. The case will be passed to the next term of civil court.

The case of W. B. Gunn vs. Monarch coal company was begun this morning. Plaintiff claims that defendant failed to carry out its contract to supply it two cars of coal weekly for seven months. Defendant alleges that plaintiff exceeded its laws of incorporation.

SENATOR MOSS ENCOURAGED BY ROAD CONSTRUCTION OUTLOOK

PINEVILLE, Jan. 25.—Senator Moss, who was instrumental in getting the legislature to adopt the present system of highway under construction for the entire state, and who has sponsored the bill for a bond issue of $50,000,000 to be voted for the building of the system, was pleased yesterday when he read in a Louisville paper, that the Optimistic Club of Louisville favored a $100,000,000 bond issue for the improvement of roads. Senator Moss said that this was particularly significant since this interest was being shown in the section of the state which already had the greatest percentage of mileage of good roads.

OVERLOOKING A BIG BET

Meantime American business men continue blind to the opportunities of trade with South American countries. It is hard to understand why they remain blind to the opportunities offered. There is only one, perhaps, to be said the chief difficulty in dealing with Latin-America is that of complying with the requirements of Latin-America as to how that trade should be served. These requirements are in a way technical but could easily be complied with. But American exporters having eyes, see not, having ears, hear not, and having hands, in the double sense of the word, handle not this trade as it should be handled. If these Latin-Americans want their goods manufactured in a slightly different way from Americans, if they want them prepared for shipment in a different manner than is the wont of American manufacturers to prepare them, their wishes certainly should be respected. It is understood these the chief objections the Latin-Americans have to handling American products.

It was generally understood that with Germany engaging in the World War that America was going after this trade which had been turned to Germany, and been won away from the United States by more skillful methods and a better understanding of the business temperaments of their pugnacious customers. But the war was fought and ended and the prediction rife, when Germany was a war and all national effort was concentrated in her "lost cause", that the United States would win back commercial South America has not been fulfilled and there is nothing to indicate that it soon will be.

This is a striking, a rare instance, in which our smart Yankees have failed to measure up to their reputation of being keen business men, go-getters of business. Men high in the official ranks of a number of administrations have visited these Latin-American countries and have done much to improve the diplomatic and social relations with them. They have done more than their share of improving the comity of nations. But the example they have set has not been, in the measure it should have been and may yet be, emulated by the business men of the United States. It is hard to understand why, especially in view of the fact that they have been trying to rehabilitate trade with unstable Europe, they do not turn their attention to South America.—Journal and Tribune.

FARE CUT TO FARM MEETING

Convention To Be Held in Lexington January 30 To February 2 For Farmers.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Jan. 22.—For the first time in a number of years all railroads operating in the state will this year grant reduced rates of fare and a half for the round trip to Kentucky farmers and their wives attending the annual farm and home convention that will be held from Jan. 30 to Feb. 2 at the College of Agriculture, according to an announcement by Thomas P. Cooper, dean of the college. This year's meeting of the state's farmers and their wives will be their eleventh one at the institution.

Seven roads will join in authorizing reduced rates to the annual farm and home meeting from point on their respective lines, according to a communication received by Dean Cooper from the Southeastern Passenger Association. They will include the Southern Railway System, Louisville and Nashville Railroad, Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, Louisville, Henderson and St. Louis Railway, Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railway, Carolina, Cincinnati and Ohio Railway and the Illinois Central Railroad.

The rate of fare and one-half will be granted only in event that at least 250 tickets are sold for the meeting, according to the announcement. The granting of reduced rates will be handled under the "Certificate Plan" with the selling dates for the tickets extending from Jan. 26 to Feb. 1. The last date on which tickets issued under the plan will be honored will be Feb. 6.

Adventures of The Twins

By Olive Roberts Barton

Chris Crow was cross and no wonder. He got a fearful valentine from somebody.

He got it out of his box at the hickory tree postoffice. He wouldn't tell anybody what was in it, but flew straight home and sulked. The way people found out about it was that Chris was so put out, he dropped his valentine, and it fell down to the ground, landing plumb on top of Fatty Sparrow who read it, and being a gossip, spread the news at once. It went:

'Old Chris Crow is a gloomy old soul,
And a gloomy old soul is he,
He calls 'Caw, Caw,' from his deep dark hole,
Way down in the hickory tree.

'Old Chris Crow is a greedy old soul,
And a greedy old soul is he,
He ate the daughter of old Mike Mole,
And alas no more is she.

'Old Chris Crow is a stingy old soul,
And a stingy old soul is he,
He said not a word of some corn he stole,
No, nary a word said he.

'Old Chris Crow is a plain old soul,
An ugly old soul is he,
He's just as black as a lump of coal,
Quite black 'twixt you and me.

'Old Chris Crow is an awkward old soul,
Oh a clumsy soul is he,
He walks like a sailor with quilt, a roll,
On a ship on a stormy sea.

'My valentine is old Chris Crow,
A comic one is he,
For he likes first rate to boast and blow,
Way up in his hickory tree.

"I don't think it's very polite" declared Nancy. "Why can't people send nice valentines?"

Mr. Stamps the fairy postman came close and whispered something. "Sh!" he said. Chris discovered it all. Its from Oscar Owl! He sent Oscar an awful one last year, and Oscar has been saving up ever since.

"Well, dear knows!" declared Nick. "Oscar's no angel, either."

AVERAGE AGE GRADE STUDENTS YEAR ABOVE NORMAL

PINEVILLE, Jan. 24.—As a result of a recent test by Superintendent Shipp of the ages of the pupils in the sixth and seventh grades of the Pineville schools he found that the average age in the sixth grade was one and one-sixth years above normal and one and one-seventh years above normal in the seventh grade.

On the study of the situation, Superintendent Shipp gives three causes: first, that pupils are transferred from one school to another, occasioning considerable loss to the pupil; second, the lack of parents to realize the importance of keeping the children in school every day; and third the abnormal children in various respects.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem

AGE SPARKS

By Berton Braley

Its eyes are burning with a lustful glow,
And there is cruel purpose in its face
With muscles tense and with a tigerish grace.
It gathers 'for a spring. Ah, well I know
How strong it is, and how its pulses flow
With hot red blood that throbs and leaps apace.
Not all my cunning or my power and place
Shall long avert the inevitable blow.
God, how I hate it, as I feel its breath
That flames about me. Yet, I smile: my fear
Shall not be plain. But certain as death
I know the fact that ages have made clear,
The cosmic inescapable cold truth
That I shall fall before this monster

THE ONE-MAN WOMAN

By Ruth Agnes Abeling.

KATE WARD, widow of DAN WARD, living with her father, JUSTIN PARSONS, has a visitor, CHINATOWN ALICE, who says Dan was father of her child.

DOROTHY, Kate is much perturbed. A few evenings later Kate and her father find the unconscious victim of an auto crash near their home and carry him in. He recovers, gives his name as JAMES LATHAM, and woos Kate, who, because of Dan's memory does not know what to do, though fond of Latham. As she talks with him a letter arrives from Alice, begging Kate's aid. In his roadster Latham takes her at once to the laundry of SING LOY, by whom Alice is employed.

GO ON WITH THE STORY

Kate was out of the car and opening the door of the little frame building almost before the machine had stopped.

As the bell tinkled on the opening door, Sing Loy shuffled to the front of the shop, smiled at her. Dorothy was visible at the back of the place. She was curled up in a big chair trying to sleep. She looked soiled and neglected.

"Is Alice here?" Kate asked. "Laltee not here." Kate caught a wistful tone in the oriental's voice. "She go away yest' day. Not come back yet."

"Do you know where she went? I'd like to see her," from Kate. "I do not know." The smile had vanished. "Laltee, she never saw where she go," softly.

Kate's discerning soul understood. Sing Loy didn't have to say that he was hurt, that he was fond, ah, very fond of the little American girl, with her fluffy hair and her fluffy heart! But was it a fluffy, frivolous heart? Kate wondered. Alice's tears had been real tears, shed for some real reason. That Kate knew.

She pitied the dark-skinned little man who stood before her. He seemed too gentle, too mild.

"Do you know where she lives?" she asked.

Sing Loy gave Kate an address,

He had written it on a pink laundry slip.

"There," he said. "She live there." a sigh in the last.

Sing Loy was unhappy.

Kate turned to Latham and the waiting car.

"She isn't there," she said, "but I have the address of the place at which she stays. Suppose we drive around there?"

It was only a short distance to the row of dilapidated houses in one of which Alice made her home.

Kate climbed the steps to a narrow veranda and rang a broken bell.

"Does a young woman named Alice live here?" Kate asked.

"Yes." It came grudgingly from the thin, colorless woman visible through the slightly open door.

"She ain't here now, and what's more, I don't know when she will be here," said the woman. "Don't know nothing about her."

The door closed.

Kate went slowly down the stairs and then stood undecidedly. As she waited, a woman came around the corner of the house.

"Didn't I hear you ask for Alice?" she questioned.

Kate looked at the woman. She was poorly dressed, heavy, slightly lame. She looked as if she must have done many a hard day's work in her time. Her face had an odd, prematurely aged look.

"Yes," finally, "I did ask for Alice."

INTEREST GROWS IN THOMAS REVIVAL

Largest Crowd Yet at High School Night Hears Evangelist at His Best

By DR. J. A. GRAY

Reaching the very heights of sublime oratory, in one of the most remarkable sermons ever heard in the city, Dr. Trig Thomas, evangelist, preached at the Presbyterian church last night before an audience of men and women that crowded the church, filling every pew and overflowing into the Sunday school room, on "The Rise and Fall of a Great Man."

The preacher was at his best and touched every chord in the human heart, finding a ready response as he reasoned of righteousness and judgment to come. The fiery zeal of the man was caught up by the audience and the very air seemed charged with a living presence. He used Peter, disciple, apostle, and companion of his Lord, as the basis of his remarks and took a text from James, the practical, along the lines of temptation. With consummate skill he painted his word pictures, adding his colors till the figures stood as in bas-relief, then holding them up before his audience he bared and stripped the human heart till many saw themselves in the picture, and sat and trembled in their seats.

The students of the high school were the guests of honor and sat in the center of the church, while the glee club, under the skilled direction of Miss Seay sang a number that was a surprise to the audience, many of whom did not know that music could be rendered by a group of boys and girls in Middlesboro. Mr. Nisbet led the song service and sang "Have You Forgotten God?" Preceding the service a score of men met with the evangelist in the Sunday school room for a brief fellowship meeting. The "Win-One club," made up of boys and girls wearing white and gold ribbon, is a great success, as would any movement under the magnetic touch of Dr. Thomas, and each night there is a great excitement as the various colors stand and are counted.

Tonight, Dr. Thomas will preach on "The Greatest Thing in the World," and Friday, "The Preeminent Christ." Both tonight and Friday the meetings will begin at 7 o'clock, instead of 7:30, in order that he may attend other meetings where he is to speak afterwards. There will be four services Sunday, 10 o'clock, 11 o'clock, at 3, for women and girls, and at 7:30, when he will preach an evangelistic sermon. One of the things that is endearing Dr. Thomas to his audience, is his fidelity to God's word, his absolute belief in the scriptures, his determination to fight sin and get people right with God, and his unceasing prayers in behalf of struggling weak sinners. He gives no quarter to the devil, whom he believes in as he does himself; to him God is a Personality not far away but closer than breath itself; Jesus is the interpreter for mankind forever in glory, and whenever a sinner cries out his unworthiness, God is there on the wings of the wind to help him, and to give him forgiveness and peace. But he insists that those inside the church get right before they can pray for, or be a help to others, and this spirit is being carried into the hearts and minds of the people and is already resulting in renewed activities towards going after the unsaved.

Dr. Thomas is touching all corners of the city, and scores are coming rightly to hear him who have not darkened the door of a church in years, the fire has spread until each night, representatives of every denomination in the city are coming for the blessing. Dr. Gray has announced and Dr. Thomas has repeatedly reiterated, that while being held at his church, the services are not for any one denomination, and not for the purpose of proselyting, but whenever a soul is saved, his name will be speedily handed to the church of his choice and no effort will be made in the remostest manner to get him into the Presbyterian church. The movement is too big for that, and the ultimate effort of both minister and evangelist, is to build up the kingdom, by getting men and women saved.

GOOD SOAP FOR TWO CENTS A POUND

Make It At Home By This Easy Process—Takes Less Than 30 Minutes.

Nowadays, more and more women are doing as their mothers did and are making their own soap. If you have never tried it, you will be surprised to see how easy it is to make good soap, soft soap, hard soap or floating soap, just by using kitchen scraps and waste grease together with a can of Merry War Lye, the safe and sure soapmaker.

In the old days when soap was made by the boiling process it took nearly all day to make a kettle of soap. Now it is hardly any work at all—requires no boiling—takes less than 30 minutes. Saves you money and gives you all the pure, clean soap you need for kitchen, laundry and all household purposes.

You will find simple directions for soap-making on the label of every can of Merry War Lye.

Merry War Powdered Lye comes in a convenient can with revolving sitting top that cannot come off, cannot get lost, recloses tightly and preserves contents. It is economical to buy and easy to use.

Too Much Meat Hurts Kidneys

Take a glass of Salts to Flush Kidneys if Bladder bothers you.

Eating too much meat may produce kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up, and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

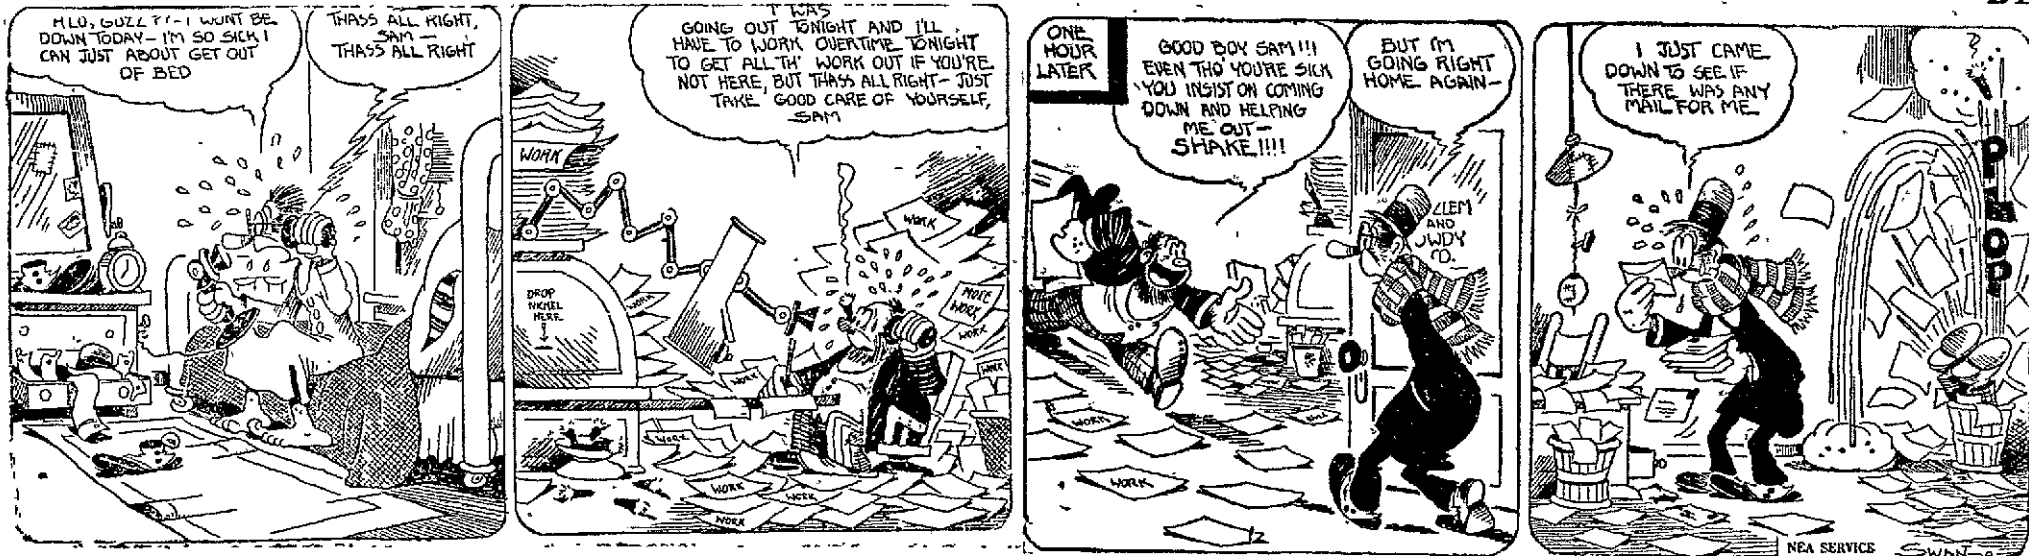

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so that it is no longer irritating, thus often ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts can not injure any one; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to help keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus often avoiding serious kidney disorders.

The Evening Garden

When all the flower lamps of day
Have hid their radiance away
The blossoms of the evening, come out awhile, and glow;

The white flowers of starlight,
The red flowers of firelight,
The gold flowers of candle-light,
That softly break and blow.

Here in the garden of the eve
I'll set me many dreams to weave
Where the night-flowers are waking against the after-glow;

The dim dreams of starlight,
The fair dreams of firelight,
The sweet dreams of candle-light;
And folks I used to know.

Good

Manners

The moment when guests are present is not the time for mother to correct faults in her children. A mild reproof may be avoidable sometimes, but banishment from the visitors' presence is the proper remedy for any grave breach of discipline, leaving punishment if necessary, until later. In any event the hostess never should show that her temper is ruffled.

Mrs. Joe T. Smith Hostess

Mrs. Joseph T. Smith entertained a few members of the M. E. Bible class of the M. E. church, South, at her home yesterday afternoon, and plans for the class in the new year were discussed. They are expecting good work throughout the year. An enjoyable afternoon was spent, at the close of which a salad course was served.

SPLENDID KIWANIS
PROGRAM PLANNED

Pineville Kiwanians Coming Tonight—

Hon. George Colvin, Speaker.

Fine Vocal Music

A program full of interest from start to finish and one of the best ladies' nights in months is promised at the Kiwanis meeting at 8 o'clock tonight in the grill room of the Hotel Cumberland. T. R. Hill is chairman of the meeting. The hour was set at 8 p. m. so that the Kiwanians could first attend the revival service at the Presbyterian church and hear Dr. Trigg-Thomas. This service will begin at 7 p. m., half an hour early.

Hon. George Colvin, state superintendent of public instruction, will be the chief speaker of the evening. He will speak on "Kentucky's Biggest Business," an address that promises to be more than worthwhile. An unusually good musical program has been arranged, with a solo by Mrs. R. M. Watt, of Pineville, a duet by Mrs. T. R. Hill and Mrs. J. W. Charlton, and a quartet number by R. B. Hall, field, Will Smith, Warren Seale and Ernest Warren.

The Pineville Kiwanis Club members and their ladies will be guests of the occasion and reports from there say that every one of them, unless prevented by sickness, will be here. This is the first joint ladies' night the clubs have ever held and this makes it of especial importance to those persons in both towns who realize the value of promoting co-operation rather than competition between Middlesboro and Pineville.

President Arthur Liebig of the Middlesboro club will give the address of welcome, and the Rev. Brazelton of Pineville will respond for Pineville. The meeting will then be turned over to T. R. Hill and the program will follow.

T. R. Hill will give the attendance prize and Warren P. Rash the silent boost. The ladies' prizes will be given by the following: R. K. Judy, W. C. Stair, Major E. S. Helburn, J. E. Evans, J. W. Wilson and P. M. Parsons.

Nearly One Hundred Plan To Attend

Kiwanis Dinner At Cumberland

Tonight

PINEVILLE, Jan. 23.—A party of nearly one hundred will motor from Pineville to Middlesboro to be the guests at the Ladies' Night of the Kiwanis Club at the Cumberland Hotel Thursday night. The Pineville Kiwanians appreciate the Middlesboro Kiwanians' invitation and have responded to it with the usual amount of Pineville pep. It didn't take any urging to get the crowd for as soon as the home club found out that it was wanted by its neighboring club, everybody wanted to go.

Among those who will attend are: Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Atkins, Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Arnett, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Culton, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bradley, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Card, Mr. and Mrs. B. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. F. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Moss, Jr., Sen. and Mrs. W. L. Moss, The Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Nisbet, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Ramsey, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Foley-Nolan Wedding Today

A wedding of unusual interest to Middlesboro people took place this morning at the home of Mrs. Florence Colgan when Mrs. Florence Colgan became the wife of William Foley. The ceremony was performed by Father William of St. Julian's Catholic church, in his study at 11 a. m. The attendants were Miss Anna Colgan, sister of the bride, and J. W. Cunningham. The bride was dressed in a dark blue suit and carried American Beauty roses. After the wedding they went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Colgan where an elaborate bridal breakfast was served. The newly married couple left on the noon train for a honeymoon in Cincinnati and northern points. They will be at home after the first of February at the Davis house on Legwood Road.

Both the bride and bridegroom are connected with the L. & N. superintendent's office and both have a wide circle of friends in Middlesboro.

STORM BREAKS DOWN TELEPHONE WIRES AT CUMBERLAND GAP

Sleet and wind played havoc with the wires at Cumberland Gap Tuesday night, according to Guy Glover, manager of the Cumberland Telephone company here. It is said that the cumulative weight of the sleet on the trees rendered them easy prey for the terrific storm which raged in the vicinity. The wires were fixed and service resumed here by one o'clock yesterday.

The storm amounted to almost a phenomenon of nature. Hundreds of stately trees that had stood there for generations were torn to the ground by the violence of the storm, their falling being made easier by reason of the fact that their boles and limbs had become encrusted with a thick layer of heavy sleet.

Wires that were in the wake of the wind storm were torn down and telephone service from that direction was entirely stopped until the lines could be repaired.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Says Cream Applied in Nostrils Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe freely. No more hawking, snuffling, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly. It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed up with a cold or nasty catarrh.
